

Talk like an Expert!

Sir David Attenborough was born 8th May 1926. He studied Natural Sciences at Cambridge University, graduating in 1947.

At the age of 7, Attenborough developed a fascination with the natural world, owning a collection of bird eggs and fossils.

He is a British naturalist and television personality, world-famous for writing and producing award-winning wildlife documentaries.

bird

characteristics

ecosystem

envrionment

vertebrate

classification

invertebrate

amphibian

impact

identify

insect

organisms

life cycle

food chain

habitat

food web

mammal

reptile

fish